Sports stars, work (employment), education and health.
Tannum Sands State School

SECOND PRIZE

Cody Guymer, Emu Parade
My picture is about an emu that never got its way. One day he defeated everyone that came near him because he had a sharp beak.
Miriam Vale State School

THRID PRIZE

Carly Blackman, Nature Around the Rock
I did the tree to show the shade where the Islanders would lie to keep themselves warm in the hot sun. The big rock is Uluru and all the black dots represent houses and camp sites around it.
Miriam Vale State School

Monika Faerber, Dreamtime
The dream is still here. The time has come for our generation to make a change with us, as well as Aboriginals and Torres Straight Islanders.
Kin Kora State School

Jayden Barnsley, Celebrating NAIDOC Week, Yesterday and Today
Yesterday and today as in the past and the future and Australians comparing to the Torres Straight and Aboriginals.
Kin Kora State School

Dylan Emmerton, Change: the next step is ours
My artwork is about the people that wanted to fight with the Aboriginal and Torres Straight Islanders and take away their culture and history.
Gladstone South State School
